For a player to be awarded a goal in FIFA, the ball must first touch the player's foot or any other part of the player's body – except for the player's hands and arms. The whole process can be completed in less than 2-3 seconds. In order to give you a realistic goal scoring experience in FIFA 22, in-game players will now deliver “swingers,” “lay-ons,” and “knife-header” shots for goalkeepers to make saves. By leaning, swiveling and turning in different directions using the analog stick, a player can affect how the ball rolls off the foot, and therefore the angle at which the ball will contact the goalkeeper. Players can also use the analog stick to position themselves in the penalty area so the goalkeeper can make a more correct decision. Attackers will now pass to a teammate for a one-on-one with the goalkeeper. Attackers will attempt to use this option if they see the goalkeeper on their first pass attempt. For goal kicks, the goalkeeper will always attempt to stop the ball; however, attackers will now be able to shoot past the goalkeeper if they are in a suitable position. The new “Quick Play” and “Quick Ball” options allow players to pick their team as soon as they enter the match and start playing as a goalkeeper. This option allows players to practice in practice mode until they feel comfortable enough to play a match. FIFA Ultimate Team has received a new “Manager Mode” which allows you to manage your player's contracts and transfers. You are given a total budget of £2,000 to spend on your squad. To create more depth to your game and make the FIFA experience more authentic, all 12 Maneuvers in FIFA Ultimate Team have received an upgrade. Players can now perform more complex moves in the new “Maneuver” and “Bomb” moves. Some commentary options have been simplified, and audio for opposing commentators has been adjusted so they can no longer interrupt each other or be heard when they are not speaking. Commentary levels have also been boosted to give you a more realistic commentary experience. Back to comments: The new “Dimensions” and “Zones” match features give you the opportunity to play soccer in a more fast-paced or realistic match. Players can

The Journey begins with Alex Hunter. Powered by Football™ You might not know the name, but you know the player. Alex Hunter is a striker and has been since he first picked up a football in East Anglia, England, more than 10 years ago. He went on to represent Ipswich Town and Stoke City, and came to North America and played for Vancouver Whitecaps and the now defunct Vancouver 86ers, before ending up with the Montreal Impact, with whom he was at the time of the interview. In January 2016, he decided to take the next step. As he says, "I felt that it was time for a change; I wanted to play more minutes, to get into the first team, do well and to try and make an impact." Alex Hunter: Headed Down a New Road On a cold January day, about 150 miles from his hometown of Birmingham, Alex Hunter showed up at Peterborough United training facility to meet with us in person. It was 2.30pm. We followed him into the sports nutrition room, where Alex told us about the sport, the contact he has with his fans and his expectations. We asked him about his career to date, his ambitions as a player and what the game means to him. Alex's early career has been one of tough play with goalkeepers, only to be discarded. Get ready to build the Ultimate Team in FIFA 20. Assemble a dream team of footballing superstars, each with their own unique strengths and techniques, and learn how to unlock them as you face off against other players online and in new seasons of tournaments. Story Mode – Take control of a team on the verge of glory. Build your roster of superstars from more than 200 of the best male and female players ever to appear on FIFA Pro Clubs, then face off online in a variety of one-off single player matches. These challenges will not only help you earn FUT coins, but also unlock exciting new features for FIFA 20. TEAM DYNAMICS TEAM QUALITY EA SPORTS first introduced Team Quality in FIFA 11. 'QUALITY' is an indicator of how many friends a player has on FIFA Pro Clubs, and is determined by your Club's position in the Club Rankings. Players that are relatively unknown, or look like they're not very good, will score lower on the Team Quality scale, whereas players that are more popular, and thus already very good, will score higher. The Team Quality stat has been completely revamped for FIFA 20. Instead of just considering each player's Club Quality (which was rarely accurate in previous games), the new Team Quality system will give fans an entirely new perspective on players and clubs. Quotas – Every FIFA 20 player will be assigned a quota, which will be determined by their position in the Club Rankings. These quotas are a combination of single player and team quality points. The player with the most total points will be ranked number 1 in their position, with the highest ranking player in each position having the most quota points. Quota points can only be earned by online matches, but player's performance in these matches will have an effect on the game's overall club quality. So, if you win matches against other teams, you'll increase your Club's Quality, and vice versa. From the Editor: Asynchronous multiplayer will remain a part of FIFA 20. In the past, multiplayer matches would often become untunable if a player was offline, and it was a major factor that prevented players from playing with friends. We've addressed this problem with the new Team Qualities and Status Features. With the Team Qualities you can now give players a team with a low-quality value while still playing with friends
